Debora Jael's story

Debora, age 26, studied up to ninth grade. She is married and her husband works for a company. She lives only with her husband.

Debora works in tailoring. She learned the skill from her parents when she was very young. Her place of work is located in her house, and she works from 7:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Also she has a "pupusa" [stuffed tortilla] business.

She will use the loan to buy supplies for tailoring, such as thread, needles, and fabric, that will permit her to continue her work.

Debora dreams of making her tailor shop and "pupusa" shop grow, to give the best to her family.
